As one of the nation's leading research universities, Colorado State provides an excellent and accessible education, conducts research that transforms our world, and leads outreach programs that support economic vitality and improve the quality of life for people worldwide.

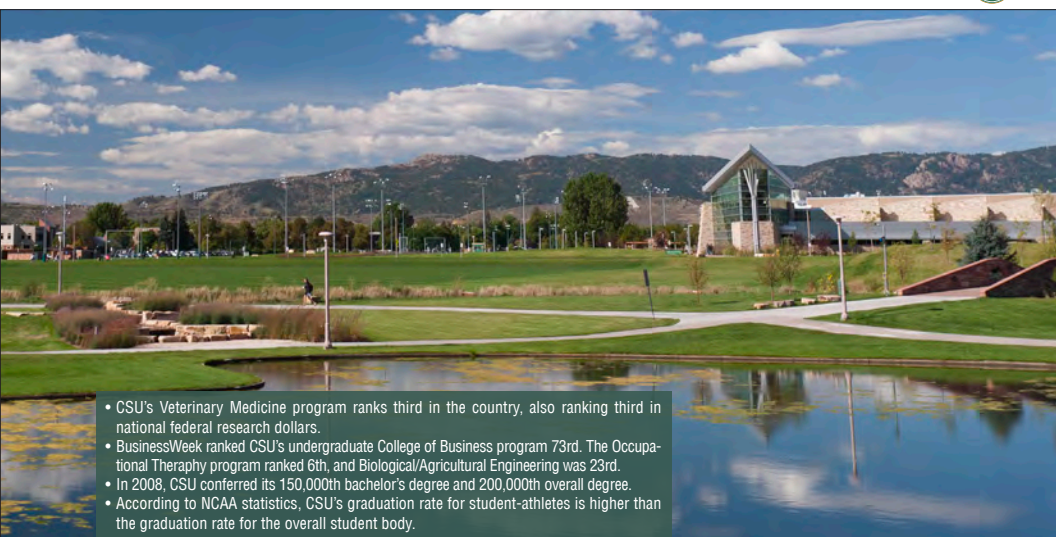

As Colorado's land-grant university, Colorado State was founded in 1870 to fulfill the vision of President Abraham Lincoln and others—to create access and opportunity for people in Colorado and around the world who can benefit from hands-on, engaged learning.

With more than 150 programs of study and 78 undergraduate degree programs in eight colleges—and a faculty-to-student ratio of 17:1—students have access to a wealth of educational possibilities. Colorado State leads the world in disciplines such as human and animal health, clean energy and the environment, global and sustainable business, engineering, and climate research. Along with outstanding programs in the liberal and performing arts, humanities and social sciences, Colorado State offers some of the top professional programs in the country in construction management, occupational therapy, psychology, communications and agriculture—and is home to the top-ranked public business school in the state.

Challenging academic programs and world-changing research are hallmarks of Colorado State, and it is our special commitment to service, outreach, and transforming our world through innovation that sets this university apart. Even more important, CSU's character is reflected in the quality of our students and graduates, who embody the university's mission of service and go on to make a significant impact on our world when they graduate.

We invite you to learn more about Colorado State, a university with vision, character and a commitment to excellence.

- CSU's Veterinary Medicine program ranks third in the country, also ranking third in national federal research dollars.
- BusinessWeek ranked CSU's undergraduate College of Business program 73rd. The Occupational Therapy program ranked 6th, and Biological/Agricultural Engineering was 23rd.
- In 2008, CSU conferred its 150,000th bachelor's degree and 200,000th overall degree.
- According to NCAA statistics, CSU's graduation rate for student-athletes is higher than the graduation rate for the overall student body.

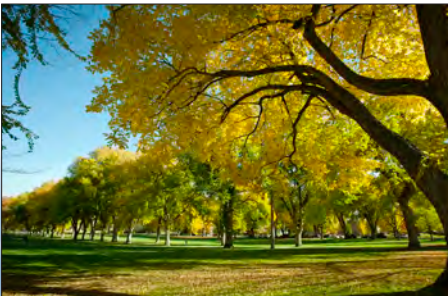

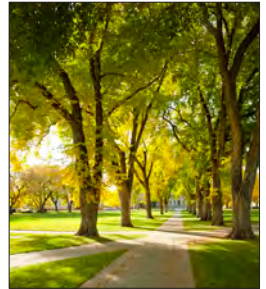

Colorado State University takes very seriously its role in educating student-athletes. Excellence is expected on the field and in the classroom.

The most recent NCAA academic statistics reveal that Colorado State leads the Mountain West Conference in graduation rate for student-athletes at 67 percent – well ahead of the conference's overall four-year student-athlete graduation rate of 59 percent. In football, Colorado State is second in the MW, graduating 68 percent of its student-athletes – again, well ahead of the four-year conference rate of 49 percent. Additionally, CSU student-athletes continue to graduate at a higher percentage than the general student body.

Colorado State, however, is not resting on its reputation for graduating its student-athletes. The state-of-the-art Anderson Academic Center, which has greatly enhanced the academic facilities available for student-athletes, opened in August 2009.

While the athletic department takes its role in the educational process very seriously, Colorado State's mission to provide a world-class education is at the core of academic success. U.S. News and World Report ranked Colorado State in the top 60 of its annual "America's Best Colleges" report, up to 60th in 2014 from 67th. The university offers 72 majors and 27 minors, and many of its programs are ranked among the best in the country.

Colorado State continues to push forward in its mission to provide the best possible education. Construction recently was completed on the state-of-the-art University Center for the Arts and Computer Science buildings and the Rockwell Hall expansion at the College of Business.

Fort Collins Facts

- America's Most Satisfied City (Time magazine, April 2014).
- 2013 Best Towns in America (1 of 18) (Outside magazine, October 2013).
- Ranked 7th on Best Places for Business and Careers (Forbes, August 2013).
- No. 4 Healthiest Mid-Size City in U.S. (2012 Gallup-Healthways Survey, February 2013).
- Ranked 11th on America's Top 50 Bike-Friendly Cities (Bicycle Magazine, May 2012).
- No. 5 in Forbes magazine's best United States cities for business and careers (June 2011).
- One of the Top 20 Places to Thrive (Best Boomer Towns, February 2009).
- Fifth-Most Educated City in the country based on education levels of our adult population (Portfolio.com, December 2010).

One of Colorado's most vibrant cities, Fort Collins is the best place in the country to live, work and play. Tucked against the foothills of the Rocky Mountains, the city is within an hour's drive of Denver, the nation's 25th-largest metro area.

Fort Collins' 145,000 residents bask in 300 days of sunshine per year — more than San Diego and Florida — and the city boasts a lively arts and cultural scene, and is a haven for outdoor enthusiasts with over 300 miles of bike paths and trails, and easy access to the scenic Poudre River and majestic Rocky Mountain National Park.

145,000 Approximate population of Fort Collins

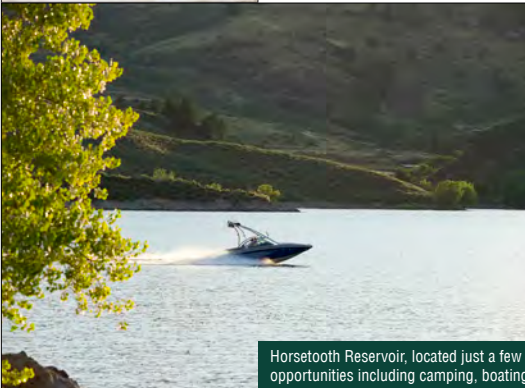

Old Town Fort Collins, the inspiration for Disneyland's Mainstreet USA.

Since its founding as a military fort in 1864, Fort Collins has anchored northern Colorado's rich heritage of academic, business and recreational pursuits. Hiking, mountain biking, kayaking, river rafting and rock climbing are just a few popular outdoor pursuits for students and residents.

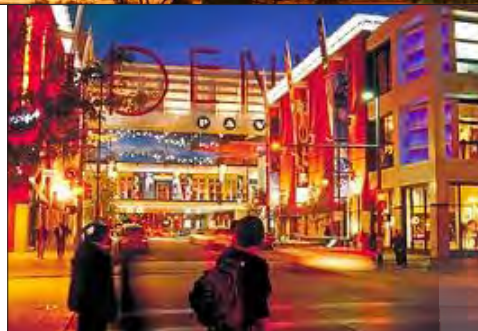

The city maintains more than 600 acres of parks, 30,000 acres of natural areas, 29 miles of off-street trails for hiking and biking, and four golf courses. Old Town, the heart of Fort Collins, offers a one-of-a-kind shopping experience and more than 80 restaurants, in addition to a vibrant night life and multiple cultural arts centers.

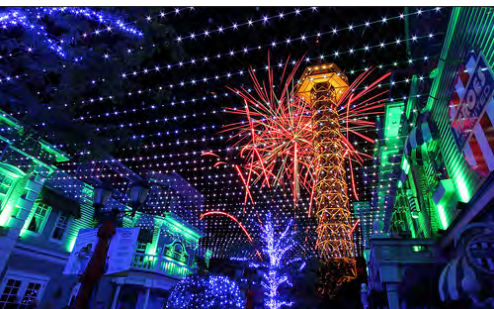

Horsetooth Reservoir, located just a few miles west of CSU's main campus, offers great outdoors opportunities including camping, boating, fishing, swimming, hiking, climbing and more.

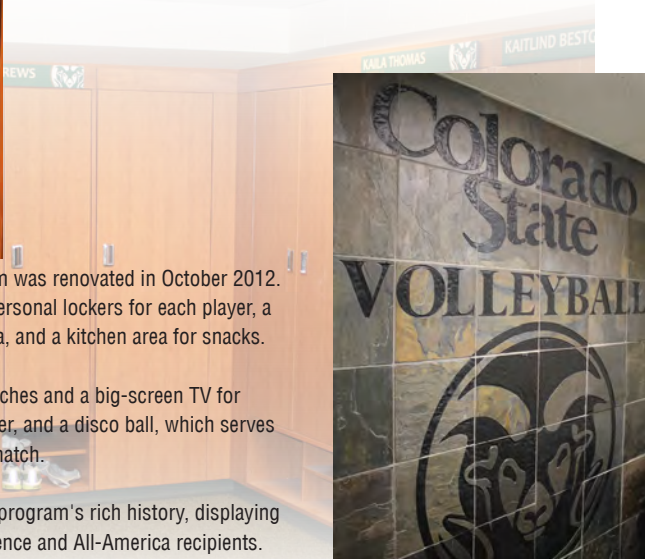

The Denver Metro Area, with a population of 2.4 million, is less than an hour's drive from Fort Collins. Three of its teams have competed for their respective world championships in the past 15 years, and Colorado fans are among the most passionate in the nation. Denver has all the features of any big city, including great shopping and nightlife on the 16th Street Mall (Denver Pavilions, right), a one-of-a-kind concert venue in Red Rocks Amphitheatre (below, right), an adrenaline-inducing amusement park in Elitch Gardens (below, left), and the world's 10th-busiest airport, Denver International.

Nicknamed the Mile High City because it is one mile above sea level, downtown Denver is home to the Colorado state capitol building, the 13th step of which is exactly one mile in elevation.

C SU's locker and team room was renovated in October 2012. The locker area features personal lockers for each player, a bathroom and shower area, and a kitchen area for snacks.

The lounge section includes couches and a big-screen TV for relaxation, a computer and printer, and a disco ball, which serves for dance parties prior to each match.

The walls remind players of the program's rich history, displaying photos for each of its all-conference and All-America recipients.

Completed in 2009, the Anderson Academic Training Center offers student-athletes a state-of-the-art weight room and strength and conditioning center.

In addition to brand-new equipment, a nutrition center and more than 8,000 square feet, the volleyball team has its own strength coach, who designs programs specifically for the team and its needs.

A large reason for the volleyball program's success on the court is the team's ability to become stronger, faster, more flexible and more agile in this comprehensive facility.

Student-athletes at Colorado State are students first, and a quality learning environment is essential to achieving the high standards expected of them. The academic portion of the Anderson Academic Training Center offers a first-class academic facility for CSU student-athletes.

The Anderson Academic Training Center helps CSU student-athletes graduate at a higher rate and with a higher GPA than the general student-body. The volleyball team held a cumulative grade-point average above 3.0 in 2013-14, with nine players earning Mountain West Academic All-Conference recognition.

Features:

- More than 9,000 square feet of space
- Computer lab with 30 new work stations
- Large study areas
- Five private tutorial rooms
- Offices for CSU's six full-time academic coordinators

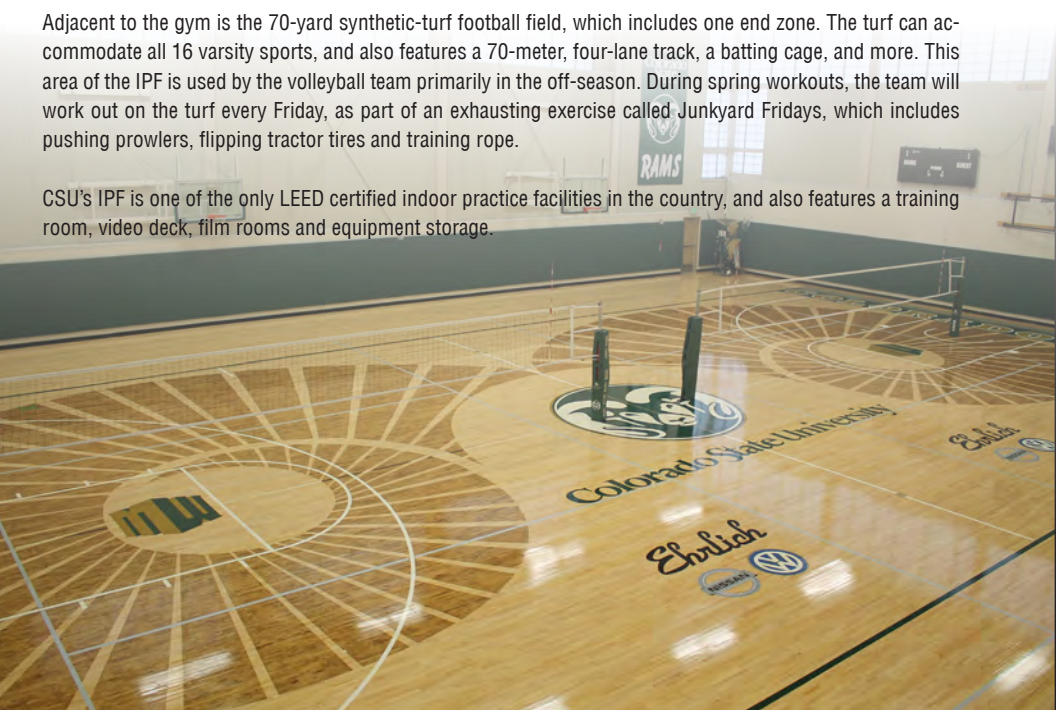

Also established in 2009, the Indoor Practice Facility measures more than 66,000 square feet, and offers additional space for the volleyball team to train. The gym portion accommodates two full-size courts, which allows for the team to break up into smaller groups for more individualized work. In 2013, the court was resurfaced, modeling the Moby Arena playing court identically – including the Ram horns, center logo, Mountain West decals and sponsorship ads.

Adjacent to the gym is the 70-yard synthetic-turf football field, which includes one end zone. The turf can accommodate all 16 varsity sports, and also features a 70-meter, four-lane track, a batting cage, and more. This area of the IPF is used by the volleyball team primarily in the off-season. During spring workouts, the team will work out on the turf every Friday, as part of an exhausting exercise called Junkyard Fridays, which includes pushing prowlers, flipping tractor tires and training rope.

CSU's IPF is one of the only LEED certified indoor practice facilities in the country, and also features a training room, video deck, film rooms and equipment storage.

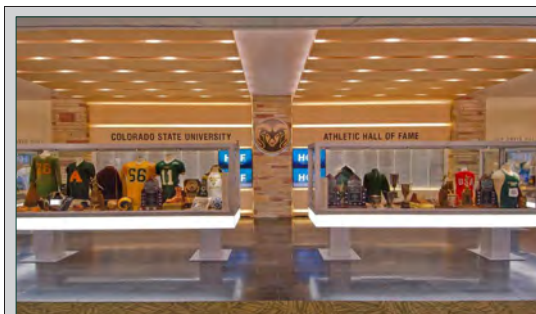

During the summer of 2013, CSU's sports medicine center was expanded, nearly doubling in size to help make it one of the finest in the country.

The training room features a multitude of new taping and treatment tables, rehabilitation equipment and larger hot/cold tubs that range from 55 to 102 degrees. The gem of the tubs is the HydroWorx2000, the only of its kind in the state of Colorado. The pool features an underwater treadmill that can raise and lower, and features five cameras which are linked to two screens to allow the training staff to watch gait training, register how the body is working biomechanically and if student-athletes are favoring any part of their bodies during rehab.

The staff of full-time trainers – including one specifically for volleyball – help prevent injuries, and when they do happen, the upgraded facility helps get them back on the court quicker.

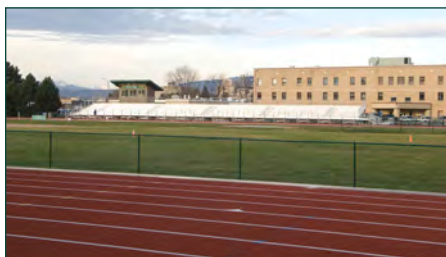

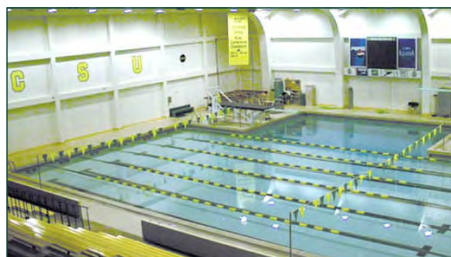

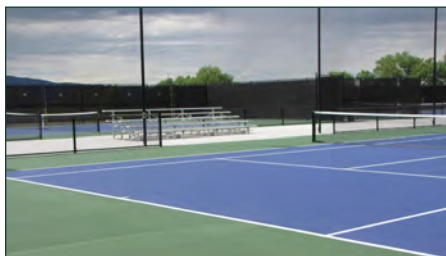

In addition to the new facilities and renovations to help make Colorado State student-athletes some of the best-equipped in the country, Moby Arena has also received a branding makeover over the past two years, including a resurfaced Moby Arena court and a branding project that includes the exterior of the building and the concourse. The highlight features a Hall of Fame display, honoring the rich history of Colorado State athletics.

Colorado State student-athletes realize the impact they have on others around them, even off the court. That's why each volleyball player participates in some form of volunteer service, ranging from working a youth camp to reading to elementary students. In 2013, recent graduate Michelle Smith even created Rams Care, a community outreach initiative intended to bring every CSU student-athlete together to help the local homeless. After collecting monetary donations at several athletic events, the money was used to buy needed supplies and assemble care packages for members of the homeless community. The event raised more than $3,600.

COACHING & SUPPORT STAFF

TOM HILBERT

Head Coach | 18th Season at CSU | Oklahoma, '84

The Colorado State women's volleyball program has become synonymous with consistent winning under the guidance and tutelage of Head Coach Tom Hilbert, who begins his 18th season with the Rams in 2014 and his 26th overall as a collegiate head coach.

With nine Mountain West Coach of the Year awards to his credit in the league's 15-year history, it is clear why Hilbert's program has risen to the top of the league and has become a stalwart on the national stage as a perennial top-25 team.

Under Hilbert, who was inducted into the CSU Athletics Hall of Fame as the Hall of Honor recipient in 2006, the Rams have developed into one of the top programs in the nation, qualifying for the NCAA tournament all 17 seasons. Overall, CSU has played in 19 straight tournaments dating back to 1995, which ranks seventh nationally among active streaks. The stretch also includes five Sweet 16 appearances and 13 first-round victories.

Hilbert ranks 10th among active Division I head coaches (15th all-time) in winning percentage (.773), and 17th in total wins (605). Of those ranked in the top 20 for wins, Hilbert has coached the fewest total matches, owning a career record of 605-178. With the Rams' win vs. Nevada on Nov. 9, 2013, Hilbert became just the 10th coach in NCAA Division I women's volleyball history to record at least 600 victories and a career winning percentage above .770.

On Nov. 4, 2010, he became the winningest coach in any sport in CSU history, earning a victory over UNLV, his 353rd in Fort Collins. The win surpassed former men's basketball coach Jim Williams' mark of 352 victories. A year prior, Hilbert eclipsed the 500-win mark for his career. At the time, he was one of just two active coaches with more than 500 victories and fewer than 22 years of head coaching experience. Also in 2009, the veteran coach earned his 300th career win at CSU, moving ahead of his predecessor, Rich Feller, who won 299 matches from 1983-96.

The Rams won a fifth consecutive Mountain West championship in 2013, also earning titles in 2009, 2010, 2011 and 2012. Hawai'i is the only other team in the NCAA to win its conference title in each of the past five seasons. In all, Hilbert has orchestrated 11 regular-season MW titles in 15 years, also adding five conference tournament championships in nine opportunities. The 16 total titles is more than all other MW teams — past and present — combined. CSU is 198-32 in MW action under Hilbert, never finishing lower than third. What's more, in 1998, CSU's final season in the WAC, the Rams won the Mountain Division. Of those who have played four seasons for the Rams under Hilbert, each one has won at least two conference titles, with all but three winning three or more.

While at CSU, Hilbert has coached eight players who have earned AVCA All-America selections, including three in the past three years. On four occasions, a Ram has been named a Volleyball Magazine All-American, and 24 times one of Hilbert's players has been named All-America Honorable Mention by either the AVCA or Volleyball Magazine. Under Hilbert, CSU has also earned 10 MW Player-of-the-Year awards in the league's 15-year history, and a total of 68 all-conference selections. In addition to 14 total conference coach-of-the-year awards — most recently in 2013 — Hilbert was named the 2013 AVCA Pacific North Region Coach of the Year, his second regional honor in the past three seasons and fifth of his career. He was recognized in December at the NCAA Final Four in Seattle, Wash.

Hilbert has led his teams to 20 or more wins every season since 1992, a span of 22 straight years, including the final five at Idaho and first 17 at Colorado State.

Expected to be a rebuilding year after graduating four senior starters, the 2013 Rams rewrote the CSU and Mountain West record books, winning 27 consecutive matches, starting the season 27-0 and finishing the season with a .933 winning percentage — a program record.

TOM HILBERT, HEAD COACH

Hilbert has also turned CSU's home court, Moby Arena, into one of the most effective in the nation, compiling a 240-29 (.892) all-time home record. The Rams are 25-12 at Moby against ranked opponents, most recently defeating No. 12 Pepperdine (2012) and No. 5 Nebraska (2011). Hilbert has 40 total wins against ranked teams, including upsetting No. 1 UCLA in 2000.

With big wins come big crowds. The CSU faithful continuously rank in the top 15 nationally for annual attendance figures, even breaking into the top 10 on several occasions. The Rams ranked seventh in the NCAA in 2013, and with four crowds larger than 4,000 on the season, set a program record with 3,283 fans per match. In 2011, a Mountain West record 6,750 fans witnessed the Rams come from behind to defeat No. 5 Nebraska. Just two schools had larger single-match crowds that year. Between Sept. 18, 1998 and Nov. 18, 2000, CSU rattled off 44 consecutive home wins, a Moby Arena record. More recently, CSU has strung together streaks of 21 (2007-08 and 2012-13), 20 (2000-02) and 16 (2011-12).

CSU has been ranked in the AVCA top-25 poll more frequently than all but 14 Division I teams, with many of those rankings coming under Hilbert. In fact, Hilbert led CSU to its highest-ever ranking — No. 3 for five weeks in 2000. On two occasions (2000, 2001), CSU has finished the year ranked in the top 10, and between Sept. 1, 1999 and Sept. 23, 2002, CSU was ranked 51 consecutive weeks.

Away from the court, Hilbert's teams have set the tone academically. During his tenure, two players have earned Academic All-America honors — Angela Knopf in 2000 and 2001 and Dana Cranston in 2012. Additionally, the Rams have earned 85 academic all-conference nods under Hilbert's guidance, including 43 over the past five seasons. His team's cumulative GPA in 2012-13 was 3.28.

Before coming to CSU, Hilbert accumulated a 174-72 (.707) record at Idaho — which remains the most wins by a coach in Idaho history. He helped the Vandals to the Big West Eastern Division title in 1996, and in the Big Sky, his teams won either the regular season or tournament championship every year from 1992-95. In each of those seasons, Hilbert's Vandals played in the NCAA tournament — posting first-round wins in 1993 and 1994 — and Hilbert was named the Big Sky Coach of the Year. In his first season in Moscow, the Vandals went 15-14, a drastic improvement from the program's combined 16-41 mark from the two prior seasons. Just five years later, in 1994, Idaho recorded a program-record 31 victories (31-3). Hilbert coached the Big Sky's first All-American in Mindy Rice. He also guided Idaho to its first national ranking — the first-ever ranking by a Big Sky team. In addition to Rice, Hilbert tutored nine AVCA All-Region selections, four Big Sky MVPs and 20 all-conference recipients.

Prior to Idaho, Hilbert spent five seasons as an assistant at his alma mater, Oklahoma, from 1984-88. The Sooners went 115-56 (.673) in Hilbert's five seasons in Norman, including two trips to the NCAA tournament and an appearance in the 1988 Elite Eight.

Away from the college game, Hilbert has coached several international trips through Bring It Promotions, including winning the Global Challenge in 2009 in Croatia and coaching a USA Select Team in Argentina in 2005.

A native of Norman, Okla., Hilbert earned his bachelor's degree in business administration and marketing in 1984, and his master's in business administration in 1989, both from OU. In 1993, he received a second master's degree, in sports and recreation management from Idaho. Hilbert has resided in Fort Collins since 1997 with his daughter, Myles, who turns 14 in September.

HILBERT'S COACHING PHILOSOPHY

What is your coaching philosophy?

My philosophy in volleyball is you need to play low error and as athletic as possible. If you keep your errors down and you maximize your athleticism in all your hitting positions, you're going to beat a lot of teams, and that's what our goal is. I also have a philosophy that every player needs to try and make improvements and grow in all areas every day. Whether it's citizenship, academics or volleyball, that's an important part of what we do.

What is your favorite thing about coaching at CSU?

The support of the program is second to none. If you're a coach of volleyball at CSU, you know you're appreciated, you know the community is into what you're doing, and to me, that's the greatest reward; that's what makes the quality of my job so high. There are a lot of places that have great programs and good financial support, but CSU is a good program with good financial support and has fantastic community support. You really feel appreciated.

What's the biggest selling point when talking to a recruit about Colorado State?

The support that we get here. We're family-first, and we get a lot of support from administration, the university and our fans. You feel wanted, and you feel part of something special because of the support here.

What types of people do you aim to develop your players into?

We want to develop them as citizens and community members. We want these players to learn to be good ambassadors to the university and the program; that is important to me. I want them also to learn to bond with each other and make great friends with this core support group. That will enhance their experience, as well.

What opportunities do players have after competing in Fort Collins?

We've had a lot of student-athletes graduate here before going on to careers overseas. We've had three U.S. National team members and three Canadian National team members, plus countless professional contracts all over the world. What we want to do is prepare our athletes to live their dreams. If their dream is to be a college volleyball player here, we certainly want to give them that experience. Then, after that, if they want to continue to play and expand their game, we want to try and help them do that. We hope that they flourish even past CSU. A lot of players get better from ages 21-25, which is really neat to see.

What is it like to play in Moby Arena?

There's no doubt, it's one of the best venues for volleyball in the United States, hands down. It's a big arena, but it's small and intimate enough that at a volleyball match you feel like there's a lot of people there — and a lot of times at our matches there are! It's the perfect size, it's aesthetically a beautiful place. I really do think it's one of the best places in the country, and it's one of the reasons I love it here so much.

What do you look for in a recruit?

The first thing we look for is if the kid is physical enough to be at or among the best in the Mountain West. Once they pass that test, we start to look for character elements, like are they a good student? A good teammate? Are they going to be someone who's willing to come in and be part of this family and grow every day? If they have all of those characteristics, we want them to be part of this special program.

BROOK COULTER

Associate Head Coach | Third Season at CSU | California, '01

Brook Coulter joined the Colorado State volleyball coaching staff on Jan. 26, 2012, as associate head coach, and begins her third season with the program in 2014. With her diverse background, Coulter works with all aspects of the program, including first-contact defense, outside hitting and as the team's recruiting coordinator.

By coaching at CSU, Coulter was able to return to her hometown. A 1996 graduate of Rocky Mountain High School in Fort Collins, Coulter spent her childhood watching CSU volleyball. She attended matches at Moby Arena, and beginning at the age of 14, even kept a three-ring binder full of newspaper clippings.

In just two seasons as associate head coach, she has made a lasting impact on the CSU volleyball program. The Rams have won back-to-back Mountain West championships with Coulter's assistance, and in 2013, set a program record with a .933 winning percentage. CSU ranked as high as No. 9 nationally, and began the season 27-0.

The Rams' back-row defense held a .953 reception percentage, sixth-best in program history, and set a school record with a .926 serve percentage. On offense, CSU hit .299, second-best in program history.

Over the past two seasons, CSU has earned eight All-Mountain West selections and six AVCA All-Region nods. Coulter has tutored some of the program's top defensive specialists, including Izzy Gaulia – who ranks second for career digs – Cassidy Denny – whose .952 serve percentage in 2013 ranked second all-time for a true freshman – and Jaime Colaizzi – who as a sophomore in 2013 had 26 double-figure dig matches (tied for fourth), including 23 in a three-set win over Air Force (fifth-most for a three-set match).

Away from the court, she plays a large role in CSU's development process as the program's recruiting coordinator. She is also instrumental to the Rams' academic success, which has been shown with the team's 18 Mountain West Academic All-Conference selections over the past two seasons, in addition to an Academic All-American.

Prior to her time at CSU, Coulter spent one season (2011) as an assistant coach at Georgia, training the Bulldogs' outside hitters and liberos, as well as co-

Before her stint in Athens, Ga., Coulter was an assistant coach at Denver for four seasons (2007-10). There, she worked with the team's outside hitters and defensive specialists, in addition to many off-the-court aspects of the program.

The Pioneers went 77-54 during her tenure, including a program-best 25-7 mark in 2008.

Her coaching career began as a volunteer assistant at Nevada in 2002, where she organized summer camps and maintained a recruiting database. After one season in Reno, however, she put coaching on hold to continue her playing career.

She played professionally in Europe from 2002-07, competing for teams in Slovenia, Austria, Spain, Germany and Holland. She was also employed by Bring It Promotions, where she directed and organized international tours throughout Slovenia and eastern Europe.

In college, Coulter was a four-year starter and three-year captain at California. The outside hitter was named to the All-Pac-10 freshman team in 1996 and was a two-time member of the Pac-10 honorable mention squad. Today, she still ranks first all-time in Cal's record book for career service aces (162) and aces in a match (nine). She finished her career ranked sixth for digs (1,121) and seventh for kills (966), and in 1998, her 56 aces ranked fourth nationally.

As a senior in 1999, she was coached by long-time CSU Head Coach Rich Feller. Coulter was a two-sport athlete, also competing with the women's basketball team for one season.

Away from the college level, Coulter has a wealth of experience with the international game.

In 2014, she was an assistant coach for the U.S. Girls' Youth National Team, earning a silver medal at the NORCECA Women's U-18 Continental Championship in Costa Rica and a berth in the 2015 FIVB Women's U-18 World Championship.

Coulter served as head coach for the 2013 USA Future Select National Training Program, working with the top athletes under 13 years of age. In 2010 and 2011, she was an assistant coach for the USA Volleyball Women's A2 Junior National Team in England and for the Global Challenge in Croatia, winning a gold medal. She was the head coach for 2009 USA Volleyball's High Performance A3 camp, and the year prior, in 2008, was an assistant on the bronze medal-winning USA Women's A2 Volleyball Open Adult Championship team.

Additionally, Coulter founded the Green Valley Ranch U-12 Starlings club program. In June 2009, the Starlings captured the bronze medal at the Starlings National Championship in San Diego, Calif. As a student-athlete at Cal, she coached the Golden Bear Volleyball Club.

Coulter earned her Bachelor of Arts degree in integrative biology in 2001 from California, and was a physical therapy aide at the Nevada Physical Therapy-Orthopedic and Sports Rehabilitation Clinic upon graduation. Her parents still live in Fort Collins.

LUKE MURRAY

Assistant Coach | First Season at CSU | Penn State, '08

Luke Murray begins his first season with the Colorado State volleyball coaching staff in 2014. The assistant coach was hired by Head Coach Tom Hilbert on May 20, 2014.

Murray works with the team's middle blockers, in addition to being the program's scouting coordinator and handling a large portion of its recruiting.

Prior to his arrival in Fort Collins, Murray spent the past two seasons (2012-13) as an assistant at East Tennessee State. With the Buccaneers, he guided the team to a pair of conference titles and a 45-22 overall record. In 2012, ETSU went 23-13 and appeared in the school's first-ever NCAA tournament after running the table during the Atlantic-Sun tournament. A year later, the Buccaneers went 22-9 and won the regular-season title.

Murray worked with the ETSU setters, the position he won a national championship at while playing for Penn State. As ETSU's top assistant, he also served as the team's recruiting coordinator and assisted with scouting and academics.

ETSU setter Jamie Rutledge averaged 10.79 assists per set in 2013 (52nd in NCAA), in addition to earning several community service and leadership awards. Murray also coached Megan Devine, the 2012 Atlantic-Sun Player of the Year and tournament MVP. Devine was named a 2013 AVCA All-America Honorable Mention. Aside from setting, ETSU's offense was in the top 50 nationally for hitting percentage in 2013, and on defense, the Buccaneers ranked 19th in the NCAA with 2.77 blocks per set.

Even with a successful two-year stint at ETSU, Murray is most known for his playing experience. The former setter helped Penn State to a national title in 2008, being named to the NCAA Championship All-Tournament Team. As a senior that year, Murray was also tabbed as an AVCA second-team All-America selection and the AVCA/Sports Imports National Player of the Week on March 27, 2008.

The two-time captain and first-team All-EIVA selection finished his career with 3,191 assists, which ranks seventh all-time in Penn State history. He played for head coach Mark Pavlik.

Following his collegiate career, Murray trained with the U.S. National Team in Anaheim, Calif., under Hugh McCutcheon and Alan Knipe (2008-09, spring 2011). From there, Murray played professionally in Cyprus and Puerto Rico (2009-12).

Murray spent three summers as a volleyball clinician with U.S. Elite Volleyball (2011-13), where he co-ran a clinic designed to help coaches implement effective practice methods. Prior to that, he spent two summers (2009-10) as the lead coach for Gold Medal Squared.

Away from the court, Murray has helped his players to plenty of success in the classroom. During the 2012-13 academic year, ETSU held a 3.59 grade-point average, with four student-athletes being placed on the A-Sun All-Academic Team. Murray, a native of Washington, Pa., graduated from Penn State in 2008 with a Bachelor of Arts degree in history. He is married to the former Kendall Grow.

BRI OLMSTEAD

Director of Operations | Seventh Season at CSU | Colorado State, '06

Former Rams stand-out Bri Olmstead begins her seventh season as a full-time member with the Colorado State coaching staff in 2014, and third as the program's director of operations.

She is responsible for all off-the-court duties, including scheduling, travel logistics and the organization of CSU's summer camps. She is the program's first-ever director of operations, a position which was created prior to the 2012 season.

Olmstead, formerly Bri Frech, first joined the Rams as a player in 2003 after spending her freshman and sophomore seasons at Salt Lake City Community College. During the 2003 and 2004 seasons, Olmstead was a consistent starter for the Rams, earning All-Mountain West (2004) and MW Championships honors (2003, 2004) while leading CSU to NCAA bids in both years and a combined 56-9 record (.862). As a junior, CSU advanced to the Sweet 16, and during Olmstead's senior season, the Rams were ranked as high as No. 9 nationally. Olmstead was a rare six-rotation middle blocker due to her exceptional serving and passing ability.

Today, she still ranks first in CSU volleyball history with 0.41 aces per set, totaling 92 over her two-year career. Her 1.22 career blocks-per-set average ranks sixth, and her .956 reception percentage ranks seventh. In 2003, she recorded 51 service aces, the sixth-most in CSU single-season history. Olmstead holds several of CSU's top individual single-match marks, as well, including a .654 hitting percentage (19-2-26) against Florida A&M on Aug. 30, 2003 (second-best for five-set matches), seven aces vs. New Mexico on Nov. 15, 2003 (tied-second for three-set matches) and 10 block assists on two occasions (tied-second for three-set matches).

Off the court, she was an outstanding student-athlete, something she's been able to carry over as a coach. Olmstead was a two-time Mountain West Academic All-Conference selection, and in 2003-04 became the program's first-ever Mountain West Scholar-Athlete.

In 2005, Olmstead served as a student-assistant for the Rams while completing her degree. She then played professionally in France for MVS La Rochette during the 2006 season. Her club finished second in the French league that year.

Olmstead returned to Fort Collins in 2007 to pursue a career in coaching. She was the team's video and statistics coordinator during the 2007 season, before joining the sidelines as an assistant coach from 2008-11. As an assistant, her emphasis was on first-contact defense, serving and scouting.

She tutored the school's top libero, Katelin Batten, who holds the CSU record for career digs. On the serving end, CSU set a program record for serve percentage in 2011, effectively serving at a 92.4 percent rate. The statistic began being tracked in 2001, and from 2009 to 2011, all under Olmstead, CSU had its top three percentages at the time.

From 2008-11, CSU won three conference titles and advanced as far as the 2009 NCAA Round of 16. CSU's overall record with Olmstead on the sidelines as an assistant coach was 98-24 (.803), including at least one NCAA tournament victory each year. Of Olmstead's 10 seasons with CSU, in any capacity, the Rams have won eight regular-season conference titles, in addition to three conference tournament championships in four tries. CSU has played in the NCAA tournament all 10 seasons with Olmstead.

A native of Eschwege, Germany, she received a Bachelor of Science degree in business administration from CSU in 2005. She is married to Charlie Olmstead and has a daughter, Lilly, who will turn 3 in May. Olmstead resides in Loveland, Colo.

JENNAARAE JESTER

Volunteer Assistant Coach | First Season at CSU | Wyoming, '10

JennaRae Jester joins the Colorado State coaching staff for the 2014 season as volunteer assistant coach. Jester, a 2010 graduate of Wyoming, previously was a graduate assistant coach at Chadron

State College for two seasons while she completed her master's degree.

For the Cowgirls (2007-10), Jester was a three-year starter, finishing her career with 89 starts. As a junior, she led Wyoming in blocks and hitting percentage, and during her senior season ranked second in the Mountain West with 1.34 blocks per set. Jester concluded her career with 336 total blocks, eighth-best in Wyoming volleyball history. Upon graduating, she spent the 2011 season on the Cowgirls bench as a student-assistant coach.

In the classroom, Jester was even more successful. Graduating from Wyoming with a degree in business management and a grade-point average north of 3.9, she was a three-time Mountain West Academic All-Conference selection and Mountain West Scholar-Athlete, two-time Academic All-District honoree, and a 2010 CoSIDA/ESPN Academic All-American.

That fall, she was one of 30 finalists for the prestigious Lowe's Senior CLASS Award, given to the top senior volleyball player who exemplifies excellence on the court, in the classroom, in the community and who has great character. In addition to academic prowess, Jester was part of Wyoming's Student Athlete Advisory Committee, and served as vice president in 2009-10.

Jester was born in San Antonio, Texas, and raised in Cheyenne, Wyo. At Cheyenne East High School, she won two state championships and was her senior class president.

2014 SEASON OUTLOOK

Deedra Foss, the 2013 Mountain West Setter of the Year, is poised for big things in 2014. The senior already ranks sixth for career assists, and has several offensive weapons to set to this fall.

While Head Coach Tom Hilbert and the Colorado State volleyball team are used to having a target on its back, the Rams prefer to fly under the radar, as they did in 2013, winning a Mountain West-record 27 straight matches en route to a program-best .933 winning percentage during an expected rebuilding season.

The Rams will again be the hunted in 2014, however, returning five starters plus their libero. CSU begins the year ranked No. 18 in the AVCA Division I Coaches' Poll and is the favorite to win the MW championship for the fifth time in the past six years.

"This is nothing new to them," Hilbert said. "We know that we must bring our A game every night, because we're going to get everyone's best shot. It's an honor to be in this position, but we can't be satisfied."

Among the returners are a trio of 2013 All-Mountain West selections, two of which were AVCA Honorable Mention All-Americans a year ago.

Senior Deedra Foss ranks sixth in CSU history for career assists, and is on pace to move into the top three by the end of the season. The MW Setter of the Year earned All-America Honorable Mention honors after finishing in the top 10 nationally for both assists per set and team hitting percentage. She'll set to fellow seniors Kelsey Snider – who earned AVCA All-Region honors after ranking in the top 10 in the MW for hitting percentage and blocks per set – and Marlee Reynolds – who led the team with 3.06 kills per set.

Also on the attack is right-side hitter Adrianna Culbert, a six-rotation starter who earned All-America Honorable Mention status last year as a sophomore. In the back row,

A 2014 All-Mountain West Preseason Team selection, Kelsey Snider will lead the Rams' middles. A year ago, her .365 hitting percentage ranked 11th in CSU volleyball history.

Year in and year out, Moby Arena ranks among the highest-attended venues in the sport. In 2013, CSU averaged a program-record 3,283 fans per match, which ranked seventh nationally.

libero Jaime Colaizzi will be assisted by returning starter Cassidy Denny, a sophomore, and junior Kaitlind Bestgen. Colaizzi's 445 digs last season were the fourth-most in CSU single-season history.

"We lose a couple key players, but for the most part, we bring back a lot of talent and veteran leadership," Hilbert said. "I really like this team and the potential they have. Defensively, from a ball-handling perspective, we're as good as we've been in a long time."

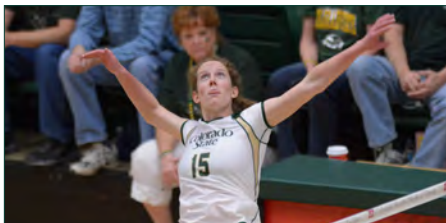

FRESH FACES FILLING IN

Barring injuries, Foss will continue to set, Colaizzi will again be the team's libero, Snider will line up in the middle and Reynolds and Culbert will attack from the pin positions. A few positions will be up for grabs, however, including Snider's partner in the middle and a couple attackers.

Sophomore Acacia Andrews, who stands at 6-5 and showed promise during her lone start last season, has earned her spot among those in contention for a starting middle blocking position, Hilbert said. Redshirt freshman Jaliyah Bolden, however, is also fighting for that spot – among other positions on the court – as is true freshman and beach gold medalist Alexandra Poletto.

On the left, Hilbert has been impressed with true freshman Sanja Cizmic, and also has options with 2013 Under Armour All-America Honorable Mention Jasmine Hanna.

"I've been really impressed with the three freshmen and the two transfers, and how they've come in and adapted right away," Hilbert said. "They understand what we expect of them, and I believe that all of them have the chance to contribute for us this season."

Last year's team-leader for kills and points, Marlee Reynolds looks to again lead the offensive attack from the left side. A year ago, she had 10 or more kills in a match on 18 occasions.

Sliding into the libero position, Jaime Colaizzi averaged 4.08 digs per set in 2013, the fourth-best performance in program history.

In April, Hilbert added a pair of transfer setters. Crystal Young, who won a national championship at Blinn College, and Grace Gordon, who adds ball-handling depth, are both expected to see the court this season.

On the bench, Luke Murray was named the Rams' new assistant coach. Murray will work primarily with the middle blockers, and brings to Fort Collins a national championship ring from his playing days at Penn State. Jenna Rae Jester joins Hilbert, Murray and associate head coach Brook Coulter as volunteer assistant coach. Jester is familiar with the league, playing for Wyoming from 2007-10.

BEEFED-UP SCHEDULE

CSU built an impressive resume in 2013 but was ousted in the opening round of the NCAA tournament. The players are determined to make a run in the tournament this year, and to help them reach that goal, the Rams strengthened their non-conference schedule, which includes two preseason top-10 opponents and six total teams which are ranked or receiving votes entering the season.

The highlight, no doubt, is a Sept. 6 home contest against 2013 national runner-up Wisconsin. Like the Rams, the Badgers return the majority of last year's lineup, and the matchup is expected to be the first tilt between two top-25 teams at Moby Arena since CSU took down No. 5 Nebraska during the 2011 home opener.

"Our fans appreciate good volleyball, and by bringing in some of the best teams in the United States, it's a great chance for us to showcase the sport of volleyball at Moby Arena," Hilbert said. "I'm excited to see how we stack up against one of the best teams in the country, and to do it in front of one of the best home-court environments in our sport."

Not to be overlooked, however, CSU opens the season against VCU (2013 Atlantic 10 runner-up), Marquette (2013 BIG EAST champion; No. 11 RPI) and UC Santa Barbara (2013 Big West champion).

Over the next week and a half, CSU will play regional rivals Northern Colorado (Sept. 3, Greeley) and Denver (Sept. 9, Fort Collins), in addition to 2013 MEAC champion Florida A&M and Wisconsin of the Big Ten.

The preseason wraps up with back-to-back road tournaments, both posing unique challenges.

In Las Cruces, N.M., CSU will face No. 9 BYU and New Mexico State. Both teams won their respective conference titles and played in the NCAA tournament in 2013, with the Cougars advancing to the Sweet 16 for the second consecutive season. The weekend concludes with an afternoon matchup against former WAC foe UTEP.

The fourth week of the season includes Pepperdine, North Carolina Central and host Pepperdine. The Waves are a perennial NCAA tournament team, advancing to the Elite Eight in 2011, while No. 25 Arizona State was picked to finish fourth in the Pac-12, behind Stanford, Washington and USC – three teams ranked in the top-five nationally in the AVCA preseason poll.

"This is one of the tougher schedules that we've ever had," Hilbert said. "All of our preseason teams are very good and challenging, and I think five or six of them are better than every team we played last year. We could be a .500 team in non-conference and be better than last year."

MOUNTAIN WEST FAVORITES

The five-time defending Mountain West champions are again picked as the favorites to win the conference earning 97 points in the preseason poll. CSU and Hawai'i are the only two teams nationally to win their respective leagues each of the past five seasons.

Make no mistake, however, a sixth-consecutive ring will not come easy.

For one, it's never been done. CSU also won five consecutive regular-season championships from 2000 to 2004, but didn't earn the league's automatic berth again until 2007.

Secondly, the league will be much tougher than it was a year ago, Hilbert believes, when CSU cruised to a 19-1 conference record.

"It's going to be a fight night in and night out," Hilbert said, "which is a good thing, because it means that the league is developing, and it forces us to be at our best every night."

New Mexico is right behind the Rams, earning four of the 11 first-place votes. The Lobos return even more production than CSU does – including Preseason Player of the Year Chantale Riddle – and begins the year receiving top-25 votes.

Utah State – which had CSU on the ropes last year in Lo-

Junior Adrianna Culbert was named to the 2014 All-Mountain West Preseason Team. The 2013 All-MW selection is a six-rotation player with plenty of versatility.

Junior defensive specialist Kaitlind Bestgen was a big part of the Rams' serving game in 2013, and during the spring, even lined up as an outside hitter.

Sophomore Acacia Andrews will compete for a starting position at middle blocker in 2014. At 6-5, she's the tallest player on the roster.

In total, CSU returns five of its six starters from a year ago, plus libero Jaime Colaizzi.

As a true freshman, Cassidy Denny earned 17 starts and ranked second on the team with 22 service aces and third with 2.02 digs per set.

gan, Utah, before CSU staged an epic comeback to win its program-record 21st straight match – was tabbed to finish third in the Mountain West, and returns 10 letterwinners including an all-conference right-side hitter.

Last year's preseason favorite San Diego State was picked to finish fourth, with the top half rounding out with Wyoming and Boise State.

"We play New Mexico on the road pretty early, and I expect New Mexico to be an outstanding team," Hilbert said. "I also expect San Diego State and Utah State to both be very good, and I think (head coach) Chad Callihan at Wyoming is helping them get better."

A WINNING TRADITION

The proud legacy that Colorado State volleyball holds is not taken lightly, and Hilbert believes that it takes a special player to understand her role in a program with such stature.

"These players have a great deal of pressure," said Hilbert, who recently signed a five-year contract extension making him one of the highest-paid volleyball coaches in the country and a 'Ram for life.' "Nobody wants to be on a CSU volleyball team that doesn't make the NCAA tournament. I guarantee you it weighs on them, so we try and talk about it as little as possible. They know the history of this program; they know what goes on here. I guarantee you they're proud to be part of it, but they know that they have a role in it. It's not about, 'I'm good because I was recruited here.' You have to be good and help CSU maintain this legacy."

All-time, the Rams rank among the most decorated programs in NCAA women's volleyball history:

- 19 conference championships, including five straight.
- 19 straight NCAA tournaments, seventh nationally.
- 25 tournament appearances overall, 11th nationally.
- 250 total weeks ranked, 14th nationally.
- 13 AVCA All-America selections, 17th nationally.

"We know that countless players before us have poured their blood, sweat and tears to get CSU volleyball to where it is today, and we want to carry that torch to the next group and continue this winning tradition," Foss said. "As seniors – Kelsey, Marlee and myself – we want to finish our careers at CSU with a fifth ring to fill our hands, and to elevate CSU volleyball to a new level so that the group after us can continue this proud tradition."

From its inception in 1999, the Mountain West has been committed to excellence in intercollegiate athletics, while promoting the academic missions of its member institutions. Progressive in its approach, the MW continues to cultivate opportunities for student-athletes to compete at the highest level, while fostering academic achievement and sportsmanship. Now in its 16th year, the MW has been assertive in its involvement with the NCAA governance structure and has taken a leadership role in the overall administration of intercollegiate athletics. The Mountain West has marked several achievements over its first 15 years of existence, most notably becoming the first to establish a sports television network dedicated solely to an intercollegiate athletic conference (The Mtn.). The Mountain West also was the first to experiment with the coaches' challenge in the college football instant replay system, and was the first non-automatic-qualifying BCS conference to participate in four BCS bowl games, winning three. In 2011-12, the Mountain West was among the first conferences to implement a league-wide state-of-the-art basketball instant replay system. Additionally, the Mountain West was the first conference to have a member institution with No. 1 overall picks in both the NFL and NBA drafts in the same year (Utah's Alex Smith and Andrew Bogut, respectively in 2005). With UNLV's Anthony Bennett claiming the No. 1 pick in the 2013 NBA Draft, the Mountain West is one of three conferences to have multiple No. 1 NBA draft selections since 2000. Also, with San Diego State's Stephen Strasburg earning the No. 1 pick in the 2009 MLB Draft, the Mountain West is one of two conferences to have the No. 1 selection in each of the NFL, NBA and MLB drafts since the MW was founded in 1999. The pending changes in the NCAA governance structure set the table for another Conference first, when two members of the MW Student-Athlete Advisory Committee (SAAC) were included in the June 2014 meeting of the Mountain West Board of Directors. New Mexico track and field athlete Kendall Spencer, the national chair of the 2014-15 NCAA Division I Student-Athlete Advisory Committee, and Air Force Academy volleyball player Emma Dridge joined the BOD members in this historic meeting to advance the discussion on student-athlete involvement in the NCAA and MW governance structure. The Mountain West is noted for some of the most beautiful terrain and landscapes in the West, which can be found within its geographic diversity. Some beautiful terrain and landscapes in the West can be found within its geographic diversity, including majestic Rocky Mountain range, which borders five MW institutions (Air Force, Boise State, Colorado State, New Mexico and Utah State). The high plains of Wyoming (elevation 7,220 feet - the highest Division I campus in the nation) contrast with the desert cities of Las Vegas and Reno, home to UNLV and Nevada, respectively, while Fresno State, San Diego State and San Jose State add a West coast influence with their locations in Central, Southern and Northern California. The inclusion of the Hawai'i football program extends the Mountain West footprint to the beautiful islands in the Pacific Ocean, while the addition of the women's soccer program at Colorado College gives the MW an additional presence in the Rocky Mountains.

HISTORY: The Mountain West was conceived on May 26, 1998, when the presidents of eight institutions - Air Force, BYU, Colorado State, New Mexico, San Diego State, UNLV, Utah and Wyoming - decided to form a new NCAA Division I-A intercollegiate athletic conference. The split from a former 16-team conference re-established continuity and stability among the membership within the new league and signaled the continuation of its tradition-rich, long-standing athletic rivalries. Three of the MW's eight original members have been conference rivals since the 1960s (New Mexico, Wyoming and Colorado State), while San Diego State (1978) and Air Force (1980) were longtime members as well. UNLV and TCU entered the fold in 1996 and the Rebels continued as one of the original eight institutions that formed the MW in 1999. TCU re-joined the group with its first year of competition in the Mountain West in 2005-06. With conference realignment sweeping the nation in recent years, the MW has been proactive in addressing membership changes. Boise State University joined the Mountain West in 2011-12, followed by Fresno State and the University of Nevada on July 1, 2012. Also on July 1, 2012, the University of Hawai'i became a football-only member of the Conference. On July 1, 2013, the Mountain West further expanded when San José State University and Utah State University joined the Conference, bringing to 11 the number of full-time member institutions and 12 football-playing members. On July 1, 2014, the Colorado College women's soccer program became the first non-football affiliate member of the Mountain West, expanding that sport to 12 Conference participants.

When the Mountain West officially began operations on July 1, 1999, the new league had in place a seven-year contract with ESPN, giving the broadcaster exclusive national television rights to MW football and men's basketball, and three-year agreements to send the league's football champion to the Liberty Bowl and a second team to the Las Vegas Bowl. Commissioner Craig Thompson also arranged a third bowl tie-in each of the first three seasons (1999 Motor City, 2000 Silicon Valley, 2001 New Orleans) before securing a four-year deal with the Emerald Bowl in San Francisco in 2002. Entering the 2013 season, the MW has six contracted bowl affiliations - the Las Vegas Bowl, San Diego County Credit Union Poinsettia Bowl, Hawai'i Bowl, Famous Potato Idaho Bowl, Gilman New Mexico Bowl and R+L Carrier New Orleans Bowl. An innovator in the postseason bowl structure, the MW engineered many "firsts," as league teams have participated in five inaugural bowl games (2000 Silicon Valley, 2001 New Orleans, 2002 San Francisco (Emerald), 2005 Poinsettia, 2006 New Mexico), as well as placing the first non-automatic-qualifying BCS team into a BCS bowl game with Utah's appearance in the 2005 Tostitos Fiesta Bowl.

OPPORTUNITY: The Mountain West provides a first-class athletic and academic experience for more than 5,100 student-athletes each year. Over the past 15 years, 41 Mountain West student-athletes have earned NCAA Postgraduate Scholarships, and since the league's inception in 1999, an additional 30 student-athletes have been named MW Scholar-Athlete of the Year and awarded league-sponsored postgraduate scholarships. Three Mountain West student-athletes have earned distinction as Rhodes Scholars (Jessica Mellinger, Wyoming and Delavane Diaz and Brittany Morrae, Air Force). Conference student-athletes are also given a voice regarding pertinent issues within the MW and NCAA governance structure through representation on the Student-Athlete Advisory Committee (SAAC). The Mountain West SAAC consists of 23 representatives; two student-athletes from each full member institution and one faculty athletics representative. The committee reviews and reacts to legislation and to other topics referred by the Conference constituent groups or committees related to the student-athlete experience. With the inclusion of two SAAC members at the June 2014 meeting of the MW Board of Directors, the Conference reaffirmed its commitment to the participation of student-athletes in its governance structure, consistent with the Mountain's West focus on enhancing the student-athlete experience.

ACHIEVEMENT: The MW has produced 840 All-America selections among its 18 sponsored sports (men's swimming was discontinued as a Conference sport following the 2010-11 season) in the last 15 years, including a league-record 83 All-America honorees in 2010-11. A total of 160 MW student-athletes have also earned Academic All-America accolades in that span. The Mountain West has sent at least 25 teams to NCAA postseason events in each of the past 15 years, capturing three team national championships in women's cross country and producing 36 individual national champions in the sports of men's golf, men's cross country, and men's and women's indoor track & field and outdoor track & field. Mountain West members have participated in 62 bowl games under the league umbrella, including four appearances in BCS games. The MW has earned 72 postseason bids among 40 NCAA Tournament slots, as well as two NIT Final Four berths. MW women's basketball has tallied 63 postseason slots, including 33 NCAA bids, five Sweet 16 appearances and one Elite Eight berth since 2000. Wyoming won the MW's first WNIT championship in 2007 with a win over Wisconsin. In women's volleyball, the MW has had 37 NCAA bids with eight Sweet 16 berths and one Elite Eight appearance. Women's soccer has earned 28 NCAA bids since 1999, with two Sweet 16 berths and one Elite Eight appearance. Mountain West men's golf has sent at least three teams to the NCAA Men's Golf Regionals in each of its 15 years, while women's golf has had at least three teams participate in NCAA Regionals 12 of the last 15 years.

2013 SEASON REVIEW

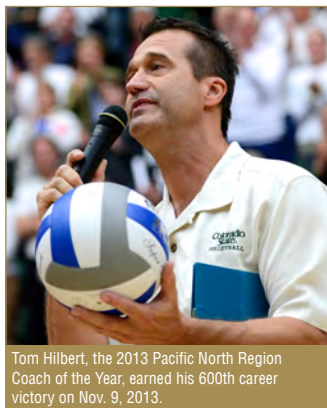

The Rams won their fifth consecutive Mountain West championship in 2013. Senior Michelle Smith (left) became the second player in CSU volleyball history to win five regular-season conference titles throughout her career.

In her first year as a starter, Samantha Peters led the team in hitting and blocking, and was named the Mountain West Player of the Year.

Tom Hilbert, the 2013 Pacific North Region Coach of the Year, earned his 600th career victory on Nov. 9, 2013.

Exceeding all expectations, the 2013 volleyball season was record breaking for Colorado State. After graduating four senior starters from the 2012 championship squad, the Rams weren't the favorite to win the Mountain West for the first time since 2009.

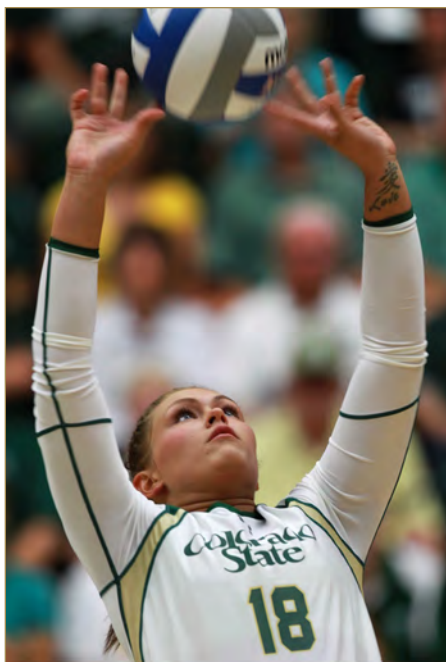

That quickly changed, as the Rams went undefeated in non-conference action for just the second time ever, highlighted by wins over Pepperdine and Texas A&M – two teams receiving top-25 votes at the time.

In conference play, it was much of the same, as CSU rattled off win after win, including a come-from-behind victory over Utah State on Nov. 2 to improve to a program-record 21-0. CSU trailed big at the break, but rallied to win the final three sets, marking the first time since 2000 that the Rams had overcome an 0-2 deficit in a true road match.

"I sit back sometimes in awe of this group of players and the things they continue to do in these tough situations," Hilbert said after the victory. "I don't think this is me as a coach. I think this particular group has character, and just have it. They have a magical way of competing and doing well in end-game situations. That's just these kids; they're great. I told them at the end of the game that it was kind of a magical night."

The winning continued for nearly another month, as the Rams improved their mark to 27-0 with a win at Fresno State on Nov. 23, capping a 12-0 record on the season in true road matches. At the time, CSU was one of two undefeated teams in the nation.

CSU eventually would lose – falling to San Diego State after leading 2-0, a loss which snapped the Rams' 21-match home winning streak – but bounced back to win its regular-season finale and celebrate a fifth-consecutive MW championship.

"Some people ask me if winning conference championships becomes old hat," Hilbert said. "Not one bit. Every time we get to lift up a trophy and celebrate a championship with our fans is very, very special to me."

The season concluded with a 28-2 mark (.933), the highest winning percentage in CSU volleyball history. The Rams were ranked for the final 14 weeks of the season, including in the top 10 for five weeks, and in addition to another conference title, competed in the NCAA tournament for the 19th straight season.

The success on the court translated to record-setting attendance marks. CSU averaged 3,283 fans per match, a figure which ranked seventh nationally and was also a program best.

Senior Samantha Peters – who entered the season with just 26 career kills – was named the Mountain

Moby Arena housed an average of 3,283 fans per match in 2013, a figure which ranked seventh nationally and set a program record.

Jaime Colaizzi

West Player of the Year after ranking in the top 25 nationally for blocking and hitting. She was one of two players in the country to average at least 1.40 blocks per set and hit above .400, and her .402 hitting percentage ranks fifth in program history.

Junior setter Deedra Foss joined Peters on the all-conference team, being named the Mountain West Setter of the Year. Her 11.76 assists-per-set average ranked 10th nationally, and she helped the Rams become one of the top offensive teams in the country, ranking sixth for hitting percentage and 14th for kills. CSU also ranked 13th for blocking in 2013.

Junior Kelsey Snider and sophomore Adrianna Culbert were also honored by the MW, as was Hilbert, who earned his ninth MW Coach of the Year award.

Culbert, Foss and Peters earned national recognition, being named AVCA All-America Honorable Mention selections, and Hilbert was tabbed as the AVCA Pacific North Region Coach of the Year.

On Nov. 9, he earned his 600th career victory, becoming one of 10 coaches in women's volleyball history with 600 victories and a winning percentage above .770.

"After losing as much star-power as we lost last year, the biggest trait that came out of this year is unselfishness," Hilbert said. "This team showed that unselfishness and discipline can win a lot of games."

CSU improved to 2-0 on the season, marking the fourth-straight year that the Rams have won their first two matches of the season.

Junior Kelsey Snider led all hitters with 13 kills on .571 hitting, committing just one error. It marked the first time in her career that she has posted back-to-back double-digit kill matches.

Four players recorded a service error, including two each from Kelsey Snider and Kaitlin Bestgen.

Leading 9-8 in the opening set, CSU went on a 7-0 run to take control. Set 2 saw 14 ties and seven lead changes. Trailing 21-22, CSU closed the set on a 4-0 run.

CSU has won 10 straight home matches dating back to Sept. 22, 2012.

CSU improved to 3-0, and has yet to drop a set. It marks the third-straight year that the Rams have won their first nine sets to a season.

Michelle Lawrence led CSU with 16 kills on .519 hitting, the most kills by a CSU true freshman since Tess Rogers in 2002.

Head Coach Tom Hilbert improved to 40-0 at home against Colorado's four other Division I programs.

Sophomore Adrianna Culbert posted her first career double-double with 10 kills and 10 digs: She recorded eight kills on her final 10 swings after beginning the match hitting -250.

The Rams held an opponent to sub -100 hitting for the second time this season.

Trailing 10-6 in the first set, CSU used a 7-1 run to take a 13-7 lead. The two teams were tied at 21-21, but CSU was able to hold on for a 25-23 set victory.

UNC hit -062 in Set 2 and the Rams cruised to a Set 2 victory behind six kills from Culbert.

- CSU improved to 4-0, its best start to a season since 2010.
- The Rams picked up their first neutral-site victory since the 2011 season. They were 0-3 on neutral courts a year ago.
- Sophomore Kallind Bestgen recorded five service aces, including four in a seven-point stretch in Set 3. It marks just the third time since 2009 that a Rams player has recorded five or more aces in a match.
- As a team, CSU finished with 11 aces, the most in a match since Nov. 4, 2011 vs. Wooming.
- Senior Samantha Peters had a career-best 11 kills on .526 hitting.
- After ties at every point from 1-1 to 10-10, CSU recorded consecutive points to take a 12-10 lead, and led the remainder of the set.
- CSU used a 9-0 run early to take a 10-3 lead, winning the set, 25-19.

- CSU improved to 5-0 on the season, which ties the fifth-best start in program history (also 2010).
- Five Rams had nine or more kills, led by 13 apiece by Adrianna Culbertson and Marlee Reynolds.
- As a team, CSU hit .318, led by Samantha Peters' .533 efficiency (9-1-15).
- Junior Deedra Foss recorded her third double-double of the season with 53 assists and 13 digs.
- CSU was out-blocked - 7-0-3-5 - but led every other statistical category.
- CSU led early, 16-11, but a 13-5 Gauchos run brought the opening set to set point at 24-21. CSU fought of three set points to tie the game before winning, 28-26.
- CSU hit .500 in Set 2, leading by as many as 11 - 21-10.
- After eight ties by the 9-9 mark in Set 3, UCSB took the next three sets and led by at least three for the remainder of the set.

MATCH 6: [RV] CSU 3, [RV] PEPPERDINE (1)

[illegible]

- CSU was crowned the Pepperdine Invitational champions after a 3-1 victory over host Pepperdine (receiving votes). Since 2009, CSU is 27-5 in regular-season tournaments, winning nine of the past 11.
- Junior Deedra Foss was named the tournament MVP, while Michelle Lawrence and Samantha Peters were named to the all-tournament team.
- Four players had 10-plus kills, including a career-most 19 by junior Marlee Reynolds. Lawrence had 13 kills, her fourth-straight double-digit kill match.
- Sophomore Jamie Colazzi had a career-high 23 digs (previous high was 14), the most by a Ram since Oct. 11, 2012.
- CSU did not fail in Set 1, jitting .412. In Set 2, the Rams used a 10-1 run to take a 17-7 lead, but Pepperdine stormed back to bring it to 21-19 before the Rams closed it out. After leading for much of the set, Pepperdine went on a roll to take a 22-20 lead. CSU responded with a 5-1 run, however, to win the match.

- CSU improved to 12-0 on the season, beating New Mexico, which was 11-1 entering the match. It was the Rams' ninth-straight true road match, their longest streak since 2003.
- Led by Kelsey Snider's career-most 18 kills on .341 hitting, four Rams had 10 or more kills.
- Freshman Cassidy Denny had a career-high four service aces and sophomore Karliand Bestgen had a career-best 13 digs.
- CSU was out-hit for the first time this season -- 220 to 236.
- After winning the first two sets -- including 27-25 in Set 1 after trailing 21-17 -- New Mexico tied the match 2-2 to send the contest into Set 5.
- New Mexico didn't lead in Set 3 until 26-25, fighting off Match Point to extend and win the set.
- In Set 5, the Rams trailed 11-8 before taking four straight points to gain a 12-11 advantage -- its first of the set since 1-0. The Rams took three of the final five points to win the match.

- CSU swept Texas A&M (unofficially ranked No. 26) to improve to 10-0, tied for the third-best start in program history. CSU is one of just six undefeated teams in the nation.
- The Rams improved to 4-0 in Orange Out matches and have yet to drop a set at home this season.
- It marks just the second time that CSU has gone undefeated in non-conference play during the regular season (1999).
- Despite coming in ranked No. 11 for kills, Texas A&M was held to a season-low 28 kills.
- For the first time this season, zero players recorded double digits for kills. Five players had at least seven kills.
- Sophomore Adrianna Culbert had a career-most 17 digs, while libero James Colazzi had 11.
- CSU never trailed in the opening set, using a 13-2 run early to win, 25-11. CSU closed in the third set, taking a 20-19 lead late and earning five of the final six points to win despite trailing much of the set.

A WINNING TRADITION

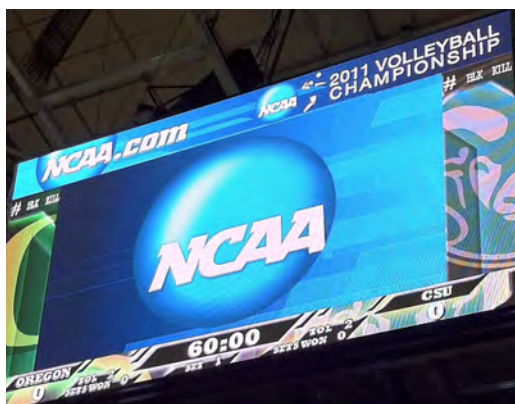

TOURNAMENT STREAKING

Postseason play year in and year out is an expectation at CSU. In fact, one would have to look back to 1994 to find the last time the Rams were not in the NCAA tournament. In all, CSU has been to 25 of the 33 all-time tournaments, including 19 in a row.

Just 12 Division I teams have earned more tournament berths than CSU, and the Rams' stretch of 19 consecutive appearances is the seventh-longest active streak in the country.

Not only does CSU get to the tournament on an annual basis, but the team wins when it gets there. The Rams have been to the regional semifinals (Sweet 16) on nine occasions — most recently in 2009 — and won their opening-round match five consecutive seasons from 2007-11.

Over the years, Moby Arena has been a host site for NCAA tournament matches 11 times, including the 2008 Regional Finals. The Rams have had tremendous success on their home court, going 13-2 in tournament matches at Moby Arena.

CHAMPIONS ON THE COURT

Since the Mountain West's inception in 1999, the Rams have been stalwarts in the league, winning 11 of the 15 regular-season titles. Additionally, CSU has earned five Mountain West Championships crowns in nine seasons (the tournament ran from 1999-06 and again in 2011). The 16 total championships is more than all other Mountain West schools combined — past and present.

CSU finished at the top of the regular-season standings again in 2013, earning its fifth consecutive title. CSU and Hawai'i are the only two schools to have won their conference title each of the past five seasons.

In 2014, CSU will vie for its sixth consecutive championship, a feat that has never been accomplished before. The Rams also won five straight regular-season titles from 2000-04. For those who have played four seasons under Head Coach Tom Hilbert, each has won at least two conference titles, with all but three players winning at least three. Michelle Smith was part of each of the Rams' past five titles, becoming just the second player in program history to win five regular-season conference championships throughout her career.

In 15 years with the MW, CSU has won or shared the regular-season or tournament championship in all but two seasons. The program also boasts titles from both the Western Athletic Conference (1998 Mountain Division) and the High County Athletic Conference (1984, '85), totaling 19 overall conference championships, more than any other sport at CSU.

Other MW notes:

>> The Rams hold an all-time record of 198-32 (.861) in MW matches.
 >> From Nov. 4, 2005 to Nov. 15, 2013, CSU won 50 consecutive home matches against current members of the MW.
 >> The MW ranked 10th out of 33 in conference RPI in 2013, with four teams ranking in the top 100.
 >> Multiple MW schools have earned NCAA tournament appearances in each season except 2011 and 2013, including three teams represented on five occasions.

2013 Mountain West

>> Regular Season

28-2 Overall, 19-1 MW

Expected to be a rebuilding year after graduating four senior starters from the year prior, CSU proved to be anything but, nearly running the table en route to a record-setting season. The Rams won their first 27 matches – a school and conference record – and remained undefeated into the final week of the season. CSU finished its Mountain West slate 19-1, winning its fifth consecutive regular-season title. Senior Samantha Peters was named the conference's Player of the Year, Head Coach Tom Hilbert earned his ninth Coach of the Year honor and setter Deedra Foss was tabbed as the league's best setter. Two other Rams earned All-Mountain West honors. Additionally, senior Michelle Smith earned her fifth conference championship ring, becoming just the second Ram in program history to win five throughout her career.

2012 Mountain West

>> Regular Season (co)

21-8 Overall, 13-3 MW

Losing their Mountain West opener for just the second time ever, the Rams rebounded from a rocky 3-2 start to conference play. Overall, CSU won 10 of its final 11 MW matches, including seven in a row to close out the year. CSU knocked off New Mexico on the final night of the regular season to be crowned conference champions for the fourth consecutive season. Senior Dana Cranstons was named the MW Player of the Year, and three others joined her on the All-MW Team, including fellow seniors Brieon Paige and Megan Plourde. Those three, along with Izzy Gaulia, capped their collegiate careers winning four regular-season conference championships in four seasons.

2011 Mountain West
>> Regular Season
>> Tournament
24-6 Overall, 12-2 MW

Returning just one senior, CSU exceeded expectations, leading the Mountain West wire to wire and winning its third straight regular-season title. Leading the way was senior Katelyn Steffan, the MW Player of the Year. Entering the MW Championships as the top seed, CSU accomplished two feats that had only been done once before. The Rams became the second No. 1 seed to win the Championships, also becoming the second team to sweep all three matches. Steffan was named the MW Championships MVP. Dana Cranston, Brieon Paige and Megan Plourde each earned postseason honors by the conference, while Deedra Foss was named the MW Newcomer of the Year and Head Coach Tom Hilbert earned his eighth MW Coach of the Year award.

2010 Mountain West
>> Regular Season
26-5 Overall, 14-2 MW

Despite the target on the Rams' backs, CSU led the league wire to wire for the second consecutive season en route to its second straight Mountain West title. Danielle Minch was named the league's Player of the Year for the second consecutive season. She was one of four seniors on the roster, three of which were four-year starters. Sophomore Megan Plourde and junior Evan Sanders were also honored by the conference, being named to the All-MW Team.

2009 Mountain West >> Regular Season 25-6 Overall, 15-1 MW

After opening the season 4-3, the CSU volleyball Team hit its stride in early September, winning 19 of 21 matches to close out the regular season. The Team rolled to a 15-1 mark in Mountain West action, claiming the program's seventh MW regular-season championship. Junior Danielle Minch was named MW Player of the Year, while senior Katelin Batten was tabbed the MW's top libero. Senior Tessa Nelson, sophomore Evan Sanders and freshman Megan Plourde each garnered all-MW honors. Head Coach Tom Hilbert was named MW Coach of the Year.

2007 Mountain West >> Regular Season 23-8 Overall, 13-3 MW

The 2007 season saw the Rams earn their sixth MW regular-season championship since 2000. Junior middle blocker Mekana Barnes was named the MW Player of the Year while junior setter Ashley Fornstorm earned all-conference honors as the Setter of the Year. Tonya Mokelki and Jaime Strauss also earned all-conference honors. The Rams went a perfect 14-0 at home including a perfect in MW play.

2006 Mountain West >> Tournament 20-10 Overall, 11-5 MW

The Rams captured their fourth tournament title in eight years as they upset No. 9 Utah in the championship match. In dramatic fashion, the Rams topped the Utes in five games. CSU trailed 20-11 in Game 3 and faced one match point before winning the third game 34-32 and then rolling to the title. Sophomore outside hitter Jaime Strauss was named the MVP of the tournament.

2004 Mountain West >> Regular Season (co) >> Tournament 21-9 Overall, 13-1 MW

In 2004, Colorado State won at least a share of the Mountain West regular-season title for a fifth straight season. CSU won its first five conference matches before falling to No. 18 Utah in four games in Moby. The Rams then rallied to win their final eight league matches, including a three-game sweep over the No. 17 Utes in Salt Lake in front of a national television audience (CSTV). Colorado State went on to become the first host school in league history to win the Mountain West tournament, winning its second straight automatic berth to the NCAA Championship.

2003 Mountain West

>> Regular Season

>> Tournament

30-5 Overall, 14-0 MW

Colorado State became the first Team in Mountain West history to go through the regular season undefeated, and then became the first Team to ever win both the regular-season and tournament crowns in the same year, winning three matches at San Diego State. Nine of the 14 regular-season matches were three-game sweeps for the Rams, including six straight.

2002 Mountain West

>> Regular Season

22-10 Overall, 12-2 MW

2002 was considered by many to be a rebuilding year, but CSU again proved to be the dominant Team in the league, posting a 12-2 record for its third consecutive title. The Rams won their first four matches, then fell in five games to BYU in Moby. Winning their next three matches in four games each, the Rams headed to San Diego State, where they were swept for the first time in 27 league matches -- a feat that had only happened three times in the existence of the Mountain West. CSU rebounded, however, to win its final four matches and again bring home the title.

2001 Mountain West
>> Regular Season
29-4 Overall, 13-1 MW

Probably the most dominant Team in Mountain West history, the 2001 Rams posted a 13-1 record and won their first 11 matches -- all in three-game sweeps -- before falling in five games at Utah. They then went on to win the final three matches, again in three-game sweeps. That year, the Rams won 37 straight games, second longest in school history to the 40 straight by the 2000 squad.

2000 Mountain West
>> Regular Season
32-5 Overall, 13-1 MW

The 2000 Team started a streak of five straight regular-season titles, posting a 13-1 record with the only blemish being a three-game setback at BYU. The Rams started the conference season with eight three-game sweeps before losing to the Cougars. The Rams then defeated New Mexico in four, swept Air Force, defeated San Diego State in five and swept UNLV to win the title. In the tournament, BYU defeated the Rams in the championship match in Moby, snapping a record 44-match home winning streak.

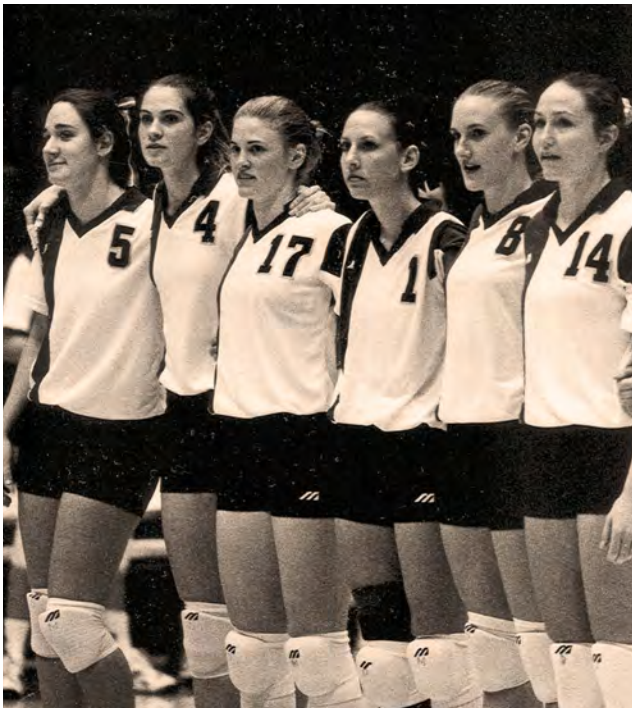

1999 Mountain West

>> Tournament

30-3 Overall, 12-2 MW

The Rams began their dominance in the newly created Mountain West. After a 12-2 mark in the inaugural season of MW play, the Rams dominated the postseason tournament to lock up an NCAA tournament berth. Five players earned all-conference recognition, led by tournament MVP Catie Vagneur.

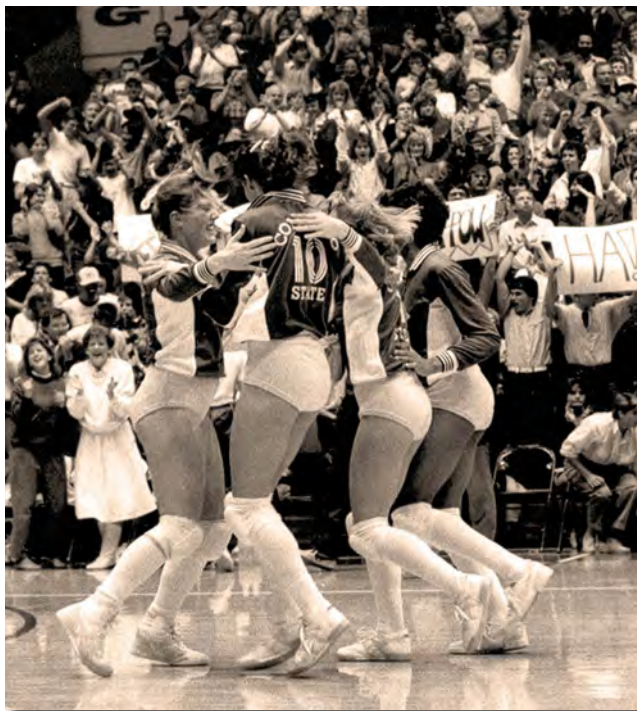

1998 WAC

>> Regular Season

(Mountain Div.)

24-8 Overall, 12-2 WAC

Colorado State won its first conference title in 13 seasons winning the Mountain Division of the WAC in its final year in that conference. The Rams posted a 12-2 record, dropping only decisions at Rice and at UNLV. CSU won its first seven matches before losing in Houston, then tallied four straight three-game sweeps and a five-game thriller against Wyoming before losing in four to the Rebels. The Rams won their final match to enter the WAC tournament as the No. 1 seed in the Mountain Division.

1985 HCAC

>> Regular Season

26-9 Overall, 11-1 HCAC

In 1985 the Rams posted an 11-1 record in High Country Athletic Conference play to win their second straight title. CSU won its first nine matches before losing at No. 18 BYU, and then swept Wyoming and Utah State for the second conference title in school history.

1984 HCAC

>> Regular Season

26-9 Overall, 12-0 HCAC

The very first conference volleyball title for Colorado State came in 1984 with an undefeated record in High Country Athletic Conference play. The Rams recorded five of their 12 wins with three-game sweeps and an impressive 4-0 record in five-game matches, including the last two at New Mexico State and New Mexico to remain unbeaten.

With annual success on the court, the country has taken note of the Colorado State volleyball program and the type of athletes the school develops. In its history, CSU has produced 13 AVCA All-Americans, which ranks 18th in the nation.

Over the last three seasons, CSU has had three All-America selections, including two players in 2011 – Megan Plourde and Katelyn Steffan. It marked just the fourth time that two Rams teammates have been selected during the same season.

In addition to the 13 AVCA All-America selections, CSU has produced four Volleyball Magazine All-Americans and 24 honorable mentions. What's more, the Rams have earned 44 AVCA All-Region nods, including at least two each season since 2007. Plourde, who wrapped up her career in 2012, became the first player in program history to be a four-time All-Region selection. A complete list can be found on Page 131.

Dana Cranston | Fort St. John, B.C. | Third Team (2012)

Dana Cranston was the team anchor as a senior, propelling CSU to a fourth consecutive Mountain West title and earning AVCA All-America honors. Cranston ranked second in the MW for kills, points and aces, and ranked first among outside hitters for hitting percentage as a senior. The native of Fort St. John, B.C., was a two-time All-MW selection, including being named the MW Player of the Year in 2012. She became CSU's second-ever Academic All-American, and was also one of 10 national Senior CLASS Award finalists and 30 honorees for the 2013 NCAA Woman of the Year. While at CSU, the Rams advanced to four NCAA tournaments, and won four consecutive MW conference championships. After college, Cranston competed with the Canadian National Team and played professionally in France.

Mekana Barnes | Highlands Ranch, Colo. | Third Team (2007)

Mekana Barnes will go down in CSU volleyball history as one of the most dynamic athletes to don a Rams uniform. Barnes was a four-year starter, and became one of the hardest hitters and most-feared middle attackers in the Mountain West. In both 2007 and 2008, she ranked among the top five blockers nationally, and in 2007 was the only player in the country to rank in the top 10 for both blocks and kills per set. During Barnes' playing tenure, CSU qualified for the NCAA tournament all four seasons, and ranked as high as No. 12, in 2008. She was named to the All-MW Team three times and was the 2007 MW Player of the Year, the same year she earned an AVCA All-America nod. She earned AVCA All-America Honorable Mention in 2008. Barnes went on to play professionally in Puerto Rico and Spain, and trained with the U.S. National Team in China and Egypt.

RANKINGS HISTORY

The Rams have earned respect nationwide as one of the most consistent and successful programs in NCAA history. In fact, CSU has been ranked in 250 of the AVCA's 462 all-time top-25 polls. Only 13 teams, entering 2014, have been ranked more frequently than the Rams. What's more, CSU has been ranked in the final AVCA poll 16 of 32 seasons, including five of the last six since 2008, which ranks 15th.

CSU's highest-ever ranking was No. 3, in September and October 2000, shortly after the Rams took down No. 1 UCLA. CSU's best overall finish to a season was No. 6 in 1987. The Rams have been ranked in the top 10 a total of 63 weeks, 19th-most in the NCAA.

They have finished the season ranked in the top 10 four times (1984, 1987, 2000 and 2001), and are one of just 24 teams to ever be ranked in the top three.

CSU's record when ranked

- CSU is 429-127 all-time while ranked, including:
 - 242-29 at home
 - 133-70 on the road
 - 54-28 at a neutral site
 - 358-96 while ranked in the top 20
 - 122-24 while ranked in the top 10
 - 54-71 vs. ranked teams (while CSU is also ranked)
 - 34-18 vs. ranked teams at home
 - 12-36 vs. ranked teams on the road
 - 8-17 at a neutral site
 - 19-54 when playing a higher-ranked team
 - 35-17 when playing a lower-ranked team

CSU against ranked teams

- CSU is 68-149 against ranked teams, regardless if the Rams are ranked or not, including:
 - 45-45 at home
 - 13-77 on the road
 - 10-27 at a neutral site
 - 16-72 vs. top-10 teams

Hilbert against ranked teams

- 40-48 overall
 - 25-12 at home
 - 9-28 on the road
 - 6-8 at a neutral site

25-12 home record against ranked teams under Head Coach Tom Hilbert.

Head Coach Tom Hilbert doesn't shy away when talking about Moby Arena – the home court of the Colorado State volleyball program – calling it the greatest volleyball venue in America. It is one of the most distinctive and effective home-court playing facilities in the nation. Thanks to its dedicated fans, Moby Arena is home to crowds and winning percentages matched by few programs across the country.

A Mountain West-record 6,750 fans packed Moby Arena on Sept. 2, 2011, to witness No. 15 CSU come from behind and defeat No. 5 Nebraska in five sets.

Not only is CSU volleyball one of the nation's leaders on the court, but the Rams also get it done in the classroom. During the 2013-14 academic year, the Rams achieved a 3.28 combined GPA, and nine players earned Mountain West Academic All-Conference honors. A year prior, in 2012-13, Dana Cranston became the program's third-ever Academic All-American. She was one of a program-record six Mountain West Scholar-Athletes, an accolade given to those with a 3.5 cumulative GPA or higher. Since 1987, the program's student-athletes have earned 110 all-conference honors for their academic success, including 43 in the past five years.

Mencimer Memorial Award - Annual award given to CSU's top scholar-athlete.

MW Scholar-Athlete - Established in 2003-04, the highest academic honor bestowed by the conference; is awarded to student-athletes with a 3.5 cumulative GPA or higher.

Academic All-MW - Given to student-athletes with a cumulative GPA above 3.0 and who have competed in at least 50 percent of her team's contest that season.

Colorado State has a history of not only developing outstanding players in Fort Collins, but for many, that extends to a professional career in volleyball. Three members of the 2012 senior class went on to play professionally. Additionally, 2001 graduate Soraya Santos begins her 13th season of professional ball this fall, the longest-tenured athlete in program history.

"We've helped give these players the opportunity to further their careers on a professional stage, which is really fun for me," Head Coach Tom Hilbert said. "It's a big part of their lives and a time they'll cherish, and for some people, like Soraya, it's their career and their life. I'm proud that we've had so many players play professionally, and I think that speaks to the development we provide at Colorado State. I even like to get over there and share it with them when I can."

Recent graduates Dana Cranston (bottom right) and Megan Plourde (bottom left) are two of four former Rams who played professionally in 2014. They are joined by Brieon Paige and Soraya Santos (above attacking), who begins her 13th season overseas this fall.

Two times since the turn of the century a CSU player has led the nation in a statistical category – Angela Knopf in 2000, hitting .458, and Megan Plourde in 2011, averaging 1.71 blocks per set. Since the NCAA officially began tracking category leaders in 2001, several CSU individuals and Rams teams have ranked among the best in the nation.

Below is a look at CSU's top-50 individual and team rankings since 2001.

OTHER NOTES:

- Angela Knopf's .393 career hitting percentage ranks 22nd in NCAA women's volleyball history. She hit .458 in 2000, a figure which led the nation and still ranks seventh all-time.
- Cindy Cox's 14.76 assists-per-set average in 1987 still ranks 11th, while her 6,340 career assists rank 10th.
- Megan Plourde averaged 1.71 blocks per set in 2011 and 1.62 in 2012. The figures rank sixth and 13th, respectively, since the start of the 25-point era in 2008.
- As a team, the Rams' 3.15 blocks per set in 2011 and 3.13 in 2010 rank ninth and 10th during the 25-point era.
- CSU's 44-match home winning streak from 1998-2000 ranks 18th in women's volleyball history.
- The Rams rank 17th for overall winning percentage.
- From 2009-13, CSU has a .821 winning percentage (124-27), sixth-best in the NCAA.

MEDIA INFORMATION

WATCHING THE RAMS

Now in its second season, the Mountain West Network – which won a 2013 Emmy Award through the Heartland chapter of the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences for its technical achievement – will again broadcast the majority of CSU volleyball's contests in 2014.

The MWN allows CSU volleyball fans to live stream every home match and all conference road matches from their computer, smart phone or handheld device. The service is free of charge, and for home contests, the stream is a high-quality broadcast featuring multiple camera angles, instant replay and broadcasters. Additionally, all MWN streams will be immediately archived, and can be re-viewed online at any time. For all streams and video content, please visit www.CSURams.com/videos.

During the 2013-14 academic year, the MWN produced more than 1,500 live broadcasts and 1,100 on-demand videos, reaching 15.1 million unique viewers in 135 countries.

RAMS ON THE RADIO

Rams volleyball can be heard not only locally, but worldwide through Rams Sports Properties. Every home match – and select road and all postseason matches – will be broadcast on KCSU (90.5 FM locally). For those not in the area, contests can be heard online at www.KCSUfm.com.

RAMS ON THE WEB

All of the latest news, scores and statistics for Colorado State athletics can be found on CSU athletics' official website, www.CSURams.com, which received a major facelift over the summer.

Fans can also get an inside look into Rams volleyball by logging onto www.ramvolleyball.colostate.edu. The recruiting website, which also was rebranded over the summer, features exclusive video content, facilities tours and more.

RAMS IN THE SOCIAL REALM

CSU's award-winning social media accounts allow fans an even deeper look inside the program, including breaking news, behind-the-scenes content and the opportunity to win prizes.

In May 2013, CSU volleyball was recognized as the 2012-13 AVCA Grant Burger Media Award recipient for its exceptional social media use. The award annually recognizes a person or organization who best spreads the awareness of the sport of volleyball and intends to grow the game.

Followers of CSU volleyball have many avenues to keep up with the Rams on social media, including Twitter, Facebook, Instagram, YouTube and more. We encourage you to follow/like these accounts to stay connected.

WELCOME! The Colorado State athletic media relations office genuinely appreciates your coverage of CSU volleyball, and looks forward to each and every time it can welcome you to Fort Collins. Members of the office, including volleyball contact Nic Hallisey, director Paul Kirk, assistant directors Danielle Marshall and Danny Mattie, media relations assistant Stuart Buchanan, as well as the team of student-assistants, are available to assist with your coverage. The office is happy to help you however it can. We encourage you to familiarize yourself with the policies relevant to your coverage of the volleyball program, as outlined on this page and the next.

Please feel free to contact Nic Hallisey via phone or email with questions regarding the media policy.

GENERAL POLICIES

- All interviews with any member of the volleyball program, including Head Coach Tom Hilbert, the coaching staff and student-athletes must be coordinated through Nic Hallisey in the athletic media relations office.
- Members of the media are strictly prohibited from approaching any coach, staff member or student-athlete by any means – including text messages, email, phone calls (cell, office or home) or social media, such as Facebook and Twitter – without first approaching the athletic media relations office.
- Regarding unique subject matter, such as human-interest angles, members of the media are welcome to approach the media relations office at least 24 hours in advance with requests to interview any member of the program.

INTERVIEW GUIDELINES

- Interviews, either in person or via telephone, with members of Colorado State's volleyball coaching staff and student-athletes must be coordinated through assistant director of media relations Nic Hallisey.
- Media are asked not to request an individual's personal contact information, including email and cell number, but rather to contact Nic Hallisey.
- Student-athletes and coaches are available for interviews at the conclusion of daily practice sessions. Student-athlete interviews will not conflict with classes, meetings, medical treatment or practice times.
- Interviews are not permitted in the locker room or training room. Interviews will not be granted on match days until following the contest.
- Telephone interviews should be requested at least 24 hours in advance and coordinated through Nic Hallisey. All interviews will be processed on an availability basis involving the requested interviewee.

MEDIA CREDENTIALS

- Single-match credentials must be requested through Nic Hallisey in writing at least three days in advance of a match. Approved requests will be mailed or can be picked up in the media relations office or at the match. On days of matches, credentials can be obtained just outside the west side of the Moby Arena court. Media members are asked to enter through the McGraw Athletic Center doors (just east of the Moby Arena parking lot) and follow the ramp on the right down to the court. At the bottom of the ramp, a table will be set up with credentials.

PARKING

- Media parking is available at Moby Arena. Please contact the CSU media relations office to request a Moby Arena parking pass.
- Access to the parking lot will require an "A" permit from 7:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. on weekdays during the academic year. A limited number of single-day passes are available through the media relations office. Annual permits can be purchased through the Office of Parking Management website: www.colostate.edu/depts/parking.

PRACTICE GUIDELINES

- All Colorado State volleyball practices are open to the media and public, unless otherwise noted.
- During the season, practice will generally run from 12:30-3 p.m. during the week, except on match and travel days. Please note, practice times are subject to change on short or no notice. At times, practice will end early, so please plan to arrive early. Practice will usually take place in Moby Arena, but contact Nic Hallisey for the most updated schedule.
- All interviews must take place after the conclusion of practice. If this is an issue, contact Nic Hallisey, and the media relations staff will try and accommodate your schedule.
- Media should remain on the sidelines, standing a safe distance from the boundary to prevent collisions. Members of the general public attending practice are asked to sit in Moby Arena upper seating.

GAMEDAY

- Near the end of each home match, the media relations staff will ask those on hand representing the media whom they wish to speak with. Approximately 10 minutes after the conclusion of each match, Head Coach Tom Hilbert and the selected student-athletes will be brought to the Coors Auditorium, located in the McGraw Athletic Center, and will be available for questions.
- No student-athlete or coach can appear on a live post-game television or radio interview without permission obtained prior to the match from Nic Hallisey.

GAMEDAY SERVICES

- In-game services include live online statistics and box scores following each set. Notes, transcribed quotes and statistics will be available following the conclusion of the match.
- The media room, which is located just west of the court at the bottom of the ramp connecting Moby Arena and the McGraw Athletic Center, will be open at least two hours prior to the start of a match, and will provide updated notes on both teams, statistics and other information.
- Moby Arena offers complimentary wireless Internet access. Check the media room for access information.

ROAD MATCHES

- We appreciate your coverage, and if you would like to cover the Rams in person during a road match, please notify Nic Hallisey at least seven days in advance to provide ample time to request a credential from the opposing team.
- If you would like to talk to Head Coach Tom Hilbert after the conclusion of a road match via telephone, please notify Nic Hallisey prior to the start of the match. After the match, a member of the media relations staff will call you so you can talk with Coach Hilbert. Student-athletes will try to be made available, as well, if requested.

REPORTING OF INJURIES

- At all times throughout the year, Head Coach Tom Hilbert will serve as the sole source for injury information. All questions related to injuries should be directed to Hilbert, and not to any other member of the program, including athletic trainers, doctors, the injured student-athlete or her teammates.

CSURAMS.COM

- The official website of Colorado State athletics is www.CSURams.com, featuring the latest news, information, statistics and rosters for all of the Rams' 16 athletic programs.

VOLLEYBALL EMAIL LIST

- To receive email updates on the Rams, email assistant director of media relations Nic Hallisey at nic.hallisey@colostate.edu with a message stating that you would like to be added to the distribution list.

WEEKLY RELEASES

- Weekly news releases are available 48 hours prior to the first match of each week on the school's official website, CSURams.com. News releases also will be emailed to media outlets upon request.

MOBY ARENA DIRECTIONS

- From the south (Denver): Take Interstate 25 north into Fort Collins. Exit I-25 (exit 268) and head west on Prospect Road. Turn right onto Shields. Moby Arena will be ahead and to your right. Enter the parking lot at the corner of Shields and Elizabeth streets.
- From the north (Cheyenne): Take Interstate 25 south into Fort Collins. Exit I-25 (exit 268) and head west on Prospect Road. Turn right onto Shields. Moby Arena will be ahead and to your right. Enter the parking lot from the corner of Shields and Elizabeth streets.
